

Jerry Pallotta visits Charles Campagne

Author Jerry Pallotta visited Charles Campagne School on Monday April 2nd, 2012. The students and teacher enjoyed his presentation. He showed students how he writes and edits text. He also gave them facts about many different animals. The children and teachers appreciated his humor and creativity. Lots of laughter could be heard from the All-Purpose Room all day long. His books include: The Who Would Win series, The Skull Alphabet Book, The Extinct Alphabet Book, and many more. Thanks to the Charles Campagne PTA, every student left school with a signed book.
